Grow your own Governors. Of all the hateful things to a full blooded, thorough-breil, British Colonist, nothing is more hateful than importing Governors. It is an insult to the manbood of every Colonist whether born in the Colony or in the British Isles. It is a sign-a badge of the political inferi ority of a Colonist to the resident of the United Kingdom. It is substantively saying that Colonists have not men fit to discharge the duties of Governor; that Colonists cannot be trusted with the prerogatives of Royalty; that mentally, socially, politically, and everyway, they are inferior to the Englishman in Eng land, the Scotchman in Scotland, and the Irishman in Ireland. It is equivalent to telling a gentleman in England, Ireland, or Scotland, never to go to the Colonies if you are ambitious of becoming a Gov. ernor, -as we only breed Colonial Gover nors in the United Kingdom. No part of Bri ish Territory abroad will produce the Imperial article-except by rare accidents-and then they must have been thoroughly perfumed wi h the Old Country primrose before being commissioned in order to drive every true Colonial instinc out of them, in very much the same way as rats are expelled from a ship by fumigation. English Colonial Governors bave consequently in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred been mere fortune-huntersfellows who had friends enough or evcop auts enough to get the Satraps of Downing Street to pitchfork them into a Colonial Governorship. Like Kenned, whom we had here, a mendicant patriot, whose first duty was to line his own pocket, and then aff et the community as far as possible by trying to provide for his friends. Like Seymour (if we leave out of sight his accidental defects) who could pocket $20,000 a year, besides yatchts, horses, palaces, and minions at the public expense, and yet denounce free schools, as spoiling good mechanics by making them half educated politicians. Like Gov. Masgrave who draws $20,000 s year for what Hankin has been doing recently at half-price. This is the class of political adventurers out of whom Governors are mide-a class here to day and away to morrow-virtuelly for igners—though loyal subjects of the Quen. The grab game seems to be their highest ambition; and the Colonies fine birds to pluck ad libitum Yet t ere have always been tools enough in the Colonies to tolerate such a negrading piece of vassulage-mere dir eaters and man-worshippers who hurran in hocor of Gubernatorial bipeds and bend the premay follow fawning. Who ever heard of a Canadian or an Australian being sent to be Viceroy of Ireland; but how many Irishmen and Scotchmen have been sent to govern the Colonies. There is no reciprocity—and never will be unless Colonists resent the sending out of 1mperalists as Governors; unless Colonists sequent Downing Street, that they grow their own Governors-and that is is not necessary to import any. Why if the Dominon had shown half the manhood it ought to show, it would have had a Gair, a McDonald, a Cartier, a Howe, a Tupper, or a Tilley, as Gover-nor General instead of Sir John Young. The light in which these di- i guished men present themselves to the world is the of suck or En listmen- tooyou g to wean-not old enough to be let out of the nursery alone -states ren in the gristle-unmatured politicians. Nothing but political cowardice keeps them in vassalage. If they wish to be British subjects, let them be Englishmen, full-blooded, and thorough brea; or if not, let them be something or anything else man political parasites, clinging to their degradation like barnac er on ship's bottom. In the States any man may aspire to be President, General, or Governor. Whomsoever the people elect holds tue office. On the British side of the line, no colonist is good enough to represent royalty, -so its no use to aspire to the honor. The present Governors of the Provinces of Nova Scotta Outario, &c , are not representatives of the Queen. The title is retained; but the prerogatives are wanting. A provincial governor is only a mayor of a large muiicipality. The Covernor General is the only Governor of the old school king, He holds the preogntives of the Crown. It will be the same here, if we join Canada. Our Governor will be what I- call ed in New Zealand a Superintendent,-no hing more. Now there are people who say that in case of union, they want Nonsense! We want no Canacian police cians for Governor here. We have plen y of men who can fill the position,—as well, if not far better than any tramontaine that can be imported. We have been sickened by gubernatorial foreigners. Hereaf er let us grow our own Govern ors, and be contented with none other.
